liberalism or how to pdf

Melleuish began by outlining the basics of liberalism in relation to its core principles of individualism and liberty. Following from these principles were four key elements of liberalism: individualism, egalitarianism, universalism and meliorism. The presentation was made in such a way so as to give the classical liberal point of view of liberalism.

Liberalism, Democracy and Development

Liberalism, or at least classical liberalism, focus on individualism, that the individual is more important than the majority and the group. The voice of an individual should not be suppressed by the majority. It would seem illogical then to encourage or even associate democracy with liberalism. In a democracy the voices of the minority are unheard of. It is the majority that rules; explained as the "tyranny of the majority" by
